

Lachezara Stamova

My name is Lachezara (or just Zara) born 03.06.2003 in Plovdiv, Bulgaria. Studied in Math High School, Plovdiv and University of Plovdiv after that. Software engineering has been part of my life since I was 14 years old. I have a computer and strong desire to code.

Mindset and Motivation

My career goals:

- A role where I can learn modern technologies all the time and improve endlessly
- Focus on: Ensuring I enjoy earning my money as much as I love the money itself.
- Focus on growth opportunities

My dream job:

- I have always wanted to work in an office. Later, I discovered IT technologies and programming. Now I want to work as a programmer in an office. Always wanted a team in which caring for others is a factor and moral values and rules apply. We help each other with personal and career development instead of sabotaging each other. I know what kind of person I am and I would like to work with people who have similar mindsets. For me, the work environment and colleagues are most important, while the position itself remains in the background because I know I can handle anything.

Skills I have:

- I am a woman (yes, It's a skill), every team needs women
- I am very responsible
- Former National team Gymnast - teamwork, work under pressure, consistency
- Not an English Pro, but perfectly fine speaking and writing(5 months living in USA)
- I have been programing since 8th grade (still eager to learn)
- I have worked with Database, I love it
- I have written some code in PHP, JavaScript, Java, Python, C#
- Microsoft Office - done, easy
- Photoshop and CorelDraw, to keep up creativity

Skills I want to learn:

- AI
- AI in business
- AI in car programing
- AI

Why We're a Perfect Match (Motivation Letter)

I'm applying to EPAM's Automated Testing in .NET program because Its a grat start for person with zero work experience. I already have the C# basics, the curiosity to break things, and the discipline to fix them — automation fits me perfectly.

I learn fast, think logically, and stay consistent even under pressure (national gymnast habits never die). I love clear structure, smart problem-solving, and working with people who push each other forward. That's why EPAM feels like the right place for me — real mentors, real tasks, real growth.

I'm not looking for "just a training". I'm looking for a challenge that turns potential into skill. And I'm ready.
